FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Children's Home Society Receives Bank of America Grant

Boise, IDAHO — July 23, 2010. The Children's Home Society of Idaho (CHS) has received a $5,000 grant from the Bank of America Charitable Foundation, Inc. to fund counseling for local children and families. The funding will support CHS' Community Sponsorship Program (CSP), which provides subsidies to low-income children and youth who would not otherwise be able to afford behavioral health services.

"This grant will greatly benefit the children and families we serve through our Warm Springs Counseling Center," said Teresa Alexander, CEO. "We truly appreciate the Bank of America Charitable Foundation's support of this important program."

The Bank of America Charitable Foundation is dedicated to achieving higher standards in its commitment to our communities. Providing support to organizations like the Children's Home Society of Idaho, which set their own higher standards in service and improve the quality of life in our communities, is key to our strategy to build capacities that truly make a difference.

About the Children's Home Society

The Children's Home Society of Idaho was established in 1908 to oversee the state's orphanage. Today, CHS operates the Warm Springs Counseling Center and Warm Springs Training Institute. Through these entities, CHS provides outpatient behavioral health services and training for mental health professionals. The mission of CHS is to provide behavioral health programs and related services to children and the families who care for them, regardless of ability to pay.
