Children's Home Society Receives Union Pacific Foundation Grant

Boise, IDAHO — July 6, 2010. The Children's Home Society of Idaho (CHS) has received a $2,500 grant from the Union Pacific Foundation to fund counseling for local children and families. The funding will support CHS' Community Sponsorship Program (CSP), which provides subsidies to low-income children and youth who would not otherwise be able to afford behavioral health services.

"We appreciate Union Pacific's continued support of our organization through this timely grant. With their help, we'll be able to serve 50 children who otherwise would have had to go without the help they need," said Stacey Taylor, Marketing & Development Manager.

The Union Pacific Foundation is the primary philanthropic arm of Union Pacific Corporation. The Foundation has distributed funds since 1959 to qualified organizations in communities served by Union Pacific. The Foundation is not endowed, but is funded each year from the operating profits of Union Pacific Corporation.

About the Children's Home Society

The Children's Home Society of Idaho was established in 1908 to oversee the state's orphanage. Today, CHS operates the Warm Springs Counseling Center and Warm Springs Training Institute. Through these entities, CHS provides outpatient behavioral health services and training for mental health professionals. The mission of CHS is to provide behavioral health programs and related services to children and the families who care for them, regardless of ability to pay.
